BPF sighting at Downtown Steet Party

During the Downtown Street Party, members of the foundation ran a booth to both sell merchandise and raffle tickets. BPF goes to Convention

The foundation board went to the TCPAAA Convention in Montgomery, Texas. At the convention, there were many different presentations that the group went to see. The presentations were mostly over law enforcement and how to better law enforcement and the people around them. They had a blast and can not wait to go back.

Parade Float, but wait
it's more

The foundation did some great advertising with the parade float. On the float was a huge QR code that once used by people in the crowd sent them directly to a website to buy raffle tickets for the upcoming raffle.

"The Wrap"

The Belton Police Foundation strives to help fund some equipment for the Belton Police Department when needed, the newest being "The Wrap." "The Wrap" is a tool that can be used to ensure the safety of the arrested, the police, and the police car. "The Wrap" prevents the arrested from thrashing around and makes it easier for the police to handle them. One was bought by the BPF for $1,550 and one was donated to the police by the Don and Anita Wyatt.
